

Appendix 28

Terminal Recycling Toolkit

- Terminal Recycling Photos from Case Examples

Previous recycling and waste containers, courtesy of City of Albuquerque Aviation Department

New recycling and waste containers, courtesy of City of Albuquerque Aviation Department

Terminal recycling bin and trash can, courtesy of Colorado Springs Airport

Conversion of trash can into recycling bin, courtesy of Colorado Springs Airport

Terminal waste cluster, courtesy of Denver International Airport

Terminal conjoined bins for recycling and waste streams as well as standalone cans, courtesy of Wayne County Airport Authority

Terminal conjoined bins for recycling and waste streams as well as standalone cans, courtesy of Wayne County Airport Authority

Terminal recycling bins and waste containers; courtesy of County of Milwaukee Airport Division

Lid of recycling container; courtesy of Port of Portland.

Terminal public space waste and recycling containers; courtesy of Port of Portland.

Waste and recycling containers in concourse food court; courtesy of Port of Portland

Trash, food scraps, and beverage collection unit in concourse food court; courtesy of Port of Portland.

Terminal recycling stations, courtesy of Reno-Tahoe International Airport.

Terminal waste, recycling, and compost containers; courtesy of Port of Seattle

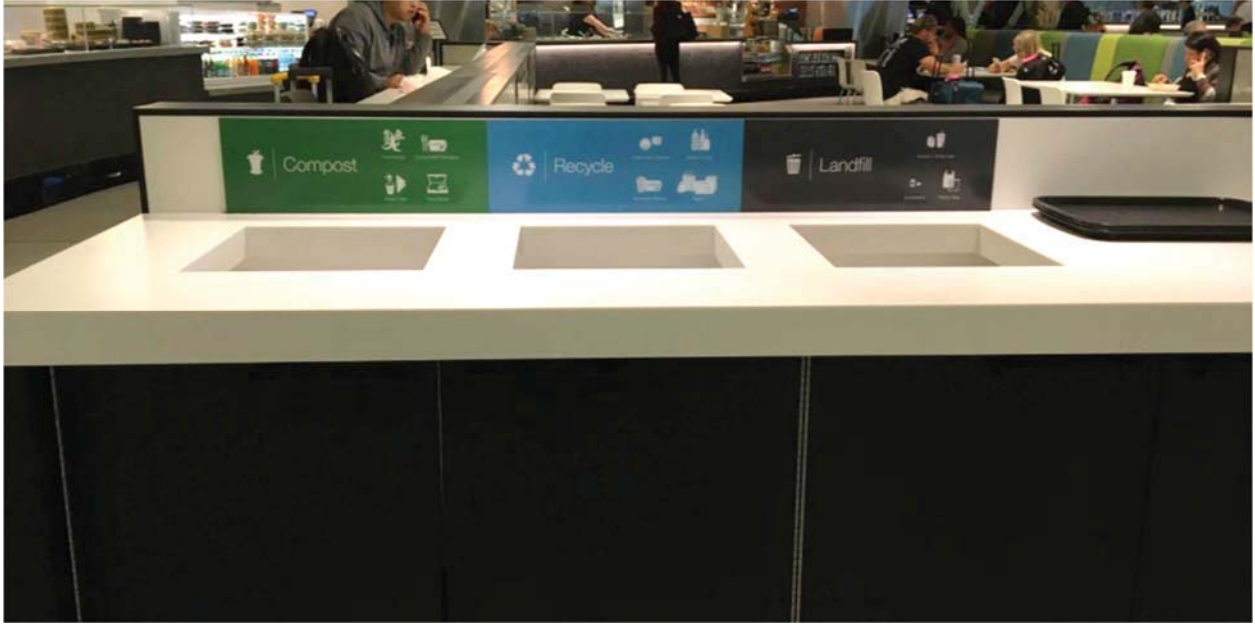

Food court waste, recycling, and compost containers; courtesy of Port of Seattle

Standard signage integrated on waste station; courtesy of San Francisco International Airport

Standard signage integrated on waste and recycling cans; courtesy of San Francisco International Airport

Standard signage integrated on waste stations; courtesy of San Francisco International Airport

Previous recycling and waste containers (group of three); courtesy of Salt Lake City Department of Airports

Previous recycling and waste containers (group of three); courtesy of Salt Lake City Department of Airports

Previous recycling and waste containers (group of three); courtesy of Salt Lake City Department of Airports

New recycling container labels and restrictive lids; courtesy of Salt Lake City Department of Airports

Collocated waste and recycling containers (groups of two); courtesy of Salt Lake City Department of Airports

Terminal waste and recycling stations; courtesy of Salt Lake City Department of Airports

Terminal food court recycling station, courtesy of Sacramento International Airport

Terminal recycling stations, courtesy of Tulsa International Airport