

TRANSPORTATION RESEARCH BOARD OF THE NATIONAL ACADEMIES

Making Progress:

Transportation Planners and Programmers Turn Ideas into Reality

May 23 - 25, 2012 - Denver, Colorado

This conference will dive into the steps transportation planners and programmers take to turn ideas into reality – from setting long-range visions and plan development to investment decisions and project delivery – and showcase key tools and strategies along the way. Focus areas will include stakeholder outreach, partnerships and collaboration, scenario planning, effective communication, performance measurement, and investment prioritization.

The outcome of this conference will be strengthened connections – between transportation planners and programmers, between the public and transportation professionals, and between researchers and practitioners. These connections will be explored for their importance in achieving strategic goals in the areas of mobility, preservation, livability, environment, economic competitiveness, and safety.

Don't miss this lively, hands-on conference.....and turn your transportation ideas into reality!

GRAND HYATT DENVER

1750 Welton Street
Denver, Colorado USA 80202
Telephone: 1-303-295-1234
<http://www.granddenver.hyatt.com>

For more information regarding this activity, contact Ms. Kim Fisher at kfisher@nas.edu

Conference Registration

- To register for conference, please go to the TRB website: <http://www.cvent.com/d/6cq8gv>

Hotel Reservations

- Make your hotel reservations by April 23, 2012
- Call Central Reservations at 1-888-421-1442 and refer to TRB Making Progress: Transportation Planners and Programmers Turn Ideas into Reality
- Single/Double Occupancy: $ 149.00
- Grand Hyatt Denver Reservations: https://resweb.passkey.com/Resweb.do?mode=welcome_gi_new&groupID=6272121