Transportation Asset Management from Plans to Practice
A Workshop for State Practitioners
May 31, 2015
Denver, Colorado

Organized by Transportation Research Board

In conjunction with the 5th International Transportation Systems Performance Measurement and Data Conference, June 1–2, 2015
www.trb.org/conferences/performancemeasures2015.aspx

This one-day workshop has been designed to help state transportation agencies develop or enhance their transportation asset management programs. Through a combination of technical presentations and facilitated discussions among peers, the workshop will focus on:

• Developing a transportation asset management plan that is compliant with the requirements of the Moving Ahead for Progress in the 21st Century Act;

• Managing risk and incorporating risks into investment decisions; and

• Aligning the organization to support asset management, with a focus on obtaining organizational buy-in, defining roles and responsibilities, building leadership support, and enhancing communication.
