Important: Due to the possibility that COVID-19 conditions may change between now and the conference, all policies indicated here are subject to change at any time. Please check this page for any updates, prior to arriving at the conference.

The following are the COVID-19 Health and Safety Policies currently in effect:

- Attendees must comply with all COVID-19-related rules and regulations of the National Academy of Sciences, the conference venue, and the city and state in which the venue is located, and understand that these rules and regulations are subject to change.

- TRB reserves the right to require attendees to show proof of COVID-19 vaccination when they arrive onsite, by providing their vaccination card and photo ID for inspection. And TRB reserves the right to deny entry, without refund of registration fees, to any attendee who does not provide the required proof.

- TRB reserves the right to require attendees to wear masks.

- By attending the conference, attendees acknowledge that a risk of exposure to COVID-19 exists in any event or public space, including TRB conferences.

- Changes in COVID-19 policy do not affect the terms of the cancellation policy.

If you have any questions about these health and safety policies, you may contact TRBmeetings@nas.edu.

As of April 6, 2022. All policies subject to change.